

I Claim:

1. A hair fastener for use in styling hair of a human being comprising:
a zigzag member having a series of substantially sharp angles spread out in alternate directions; and,
a wave-like shape formed at each end of said zigzag member;
whereby, the zigzag member is placed into a section of hair to secure.
2. The hair fastener of claim 1 wherein said zigzag member is substantially the same width throughout.
3. The hair fastener of claim 1 wherein a decreactive member is attached by attaching means to at least one bend of the zigzag member.
4. A hair fastener for use in styling hair of a human being comprising:
a zigzag member having a series of substantially sharp angles spread out
in alternate directions; and,
a bobby pin integrally formed at each end of said zigzag member;
whereby, said hair fastener is placed into a section of hair to secure.
5. The hair fastener of claim 4 wherein said zigzag member is substantially the same width throughout.
6. The hair fastener of claim 4 wherein a decreactive member is attached by attaching means to at least one bend of the zigzag member.